St. insusti bus From Prot. W. G. Simmons, Wake Fo h Carolina. WAKE I Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir: We have for several Patent Enamel Paint on our College Building, and a price by one having no experience in such works a good job. We shall continue to use it—believing that in point of economic and a yand facility of application, it is superior to any other pigment offered in the market.

From Messrs. Engelhard & Saunders. Editors and Proprietors Journal. WILMINGTON, N. C., December, 26, 1873. Wilkington, N. C., December, 26, 1873.

We desire to call especial attention to the advertisement of "Bradley's Patent Enamal Paint." We can recommend it from a knowledge of its merits. Some of the employees of this office having purchased some of this paint from Mr. C. P. Knight, of Baitmore, have used it and speak in the highest terms of it, after a trial of several months. While it is as durable as ordinary paint, it has a much finer finish, and its cost and convenience will recommend it to all in need of paint.

The Plains, Faquier Co., va., Feb. 6, 1873.

Mr. C. P. Knight—sir: The paint came safe to hand as ordered, 2 kegs, 5 gallon each, and 3 buckets, 1 gallon each. As practice was slack, I did the job myself. Two weeks (not constant work) completed the house, two coats; the last coat Inpplied thick, and it is now generally conceded that, for "ename!," like hardness, and body and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer job in the place. I have saved sixty-five dolings by the operation—which is an item just now with the Southern people. It should be generally adopted in this state. Any country lad can apply it. I have never dabled in such stock as "testimonials," but I feel so forcibly the great adaptability of yeur. Enamel Paint" to the wants of our people—in excellency of material, in occupy of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed," that I give you permission (if it is desirable to you) to make what use you think proper of this letter.

Very respectfully and truly.

THE WORK OF EDITING A NEWS-PAPER.—In commenting upon the failure of a newspaper manager, the St. Louis Globe tells a plain truth in the following words:

"The business of journalism will continue to be an inviting field for experiments to those who have a large amount of money and a large amount of egotism. A man who, having edited a newspaper until he was forty, should suddenly announce himself a lawyer, would be regarded as a fool by the legal profession; and yet we often hear of lawyers of forty making sudden pretensions to journalism. There is an idea that the business of editing requires no apprenticeship, that editors come forth from law offices and colleges fully armed for the profession, like Pallas from the brow of Jove. It is a mistake; there is not in America to day a single journalist of national reputse tion who has not devoted more tips and more hard work to his profession. The national reputse that he was innet on the street will hesitate about carrying a hod or making a pair of shoes, whereas there will probably meet on the street will hesitate about carrying a hod or making a pair of shoes, whereas there will probably not be one in the hundred who can't, according to his own judgment, edit any newspaper in the country better than it is edited, no matter in what manner or by whom."

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS .- This per-ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.—This performance took place in this city yesterday, and after viewing the really splendid menagerie which Old John has with him and witnessing the performance in the ring, we unhesitatingly say that the present exhibition is unsurpassed by anything of the kind that has ever been in this section. The riding is good, particularly that of young Robbins and Stickney, while the vaulting, that of Kelly and Stickney, cannot be surpassed, the former turning a somersault over twenty horses and the latter a double twenty horses and the latter a double somersault over eighteen. The managers of the whole affair are peculiarly gentlemanly and courteous to their visitors, and we are not surprised that Robinson's Circus continues so popular.

Soon to Meet.-But two weeks and a half will elapse before the next General Assembly will meet in this city. Already many of the members have engaged boarding houses. At the opening of the session there will doubtless be many visitors, as the number of candidates for the differ-ent positions of the Legislature are nearly as numerous as "the sands of nearly as numerous as "the sands of the sea." We wish they all could be supplied, as there are thousands of men in the State who should be repaid for the gallant service they did in the late contest.

Moore as Charloun of the whole arrangements, and Messrs. John F. Orr, W. W. Overman and Charles N. Vance as the Committee of Invision N. Vance as the Committee of Invi-tation. Our Woodson will be on hand, that is if he can have his spiketail completed in time. If not, he will trespass upon Caldwell's ward

THE RALEIGH THESPIANS.-At a meeting of the Raleigh Thespians, Tuesday night, the following officers were elected: Maj. B. C. Manley, President; Capt. E. C. Woodson, Vice-President; P. C. Enniss, Seccretary and Treasurer; and Messrs. B. C. Manley, E. C. Woodson, P. C. Euniss, Robt. Simpson and W. W. Smith, Executive Committee. This Association has been permanently organized and promises to give a series of plays some time soon, about the Christmas holidays.

COMMENDABLE.—The Executive Committee of the late Weldon Fair ruled out of their grounds every species of gaming, or even the sale of anything in which a gift was implied, although they were offered $1500 for said privileges. This is truly commendable, and we think it reflects great credit both upon the morals and firmness of the Committee.

But they should not be deluded into the belief that such weather can lin-ger with us much longer. Fill your cellars with wood and coal, so that you may be ready.

Prof. McIver, who is now to retire from the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction in favor of Col. S. D. Pool, has bought a farm of fifteen bundred acres in Jones county, and will move his family down there this winter. It is the farm that Colgrove was killed on, and is the richest cotton land in that county.

Says Bragg, in yesterday evening's Sentinel: "We met him to-day at the main entrance of the circus just as you leave the animal kingdom tent, He was a lean, long, cadaverous specimen, about six feet in his stockings, dressed in coal black, and he meekly inquired of a polite usher:
"Say, Mister, how long before services commence?" We booked him and departed, while Tom Evans who was with us, bent himself double in a loud guffaw."

Mr. Y. is a fluent speaker, and his discourses evinced deep thought and were listened to by large, attentive audiences. There are large, attentive audiences. At eleven o'clock His Honor ascended the Bench, and after the Court was opened, the Grand Jury drawn, Judge Seymour proceeded to charge them. thirty minutes in length and was lucid and to the point, and it was conceded by those who heard him to have made a very good impression. The general expression among the lawyers is, that Judge Seymour is a decided improvement on Clarke, and will give general satisfaction if he holds out as he has commenced.

There was some little excitement in the Courthouse during the adjournment for dinner, caused by L. J. Moore, Solicitor, and Frank Parrott, late Republican member of the House of Representatives from this county. Parrott was called (among others) as a witness to go before the Grand Jury, and not answering, the Solicitor order-ed the Clerk to enter a fine of $80.00. P. hearing of it, went to see the Solicitor. They met on the steps, had some words. P. called Moore a d—d thieving son of a female canine, Moore doubled up his fist, when P. ran against it with such force as to Want to sell a House and Lot, cause such a getting down stairs, you never didn't see, and not much order either as to the getting down. P. says when he got up he couldn't find Moore. This is one case for the grand

I notice the arrival, this p. m., of Messrs. Strong, from Raleigh, Dortch, Sherard and Smedes, from Goldsboro, and Edwards, from Snow Hill, which makes quite an array of legal talent. I called on friend Wilson, of the Gazette. He is in fine spirits and seems to be doing well. Truly,

THE COTTON MARKET,-The receipts of cotton in this market yeserday reached some 450 bales, the largest quantity, we believe, received in any one day this season. The market ruled quiet at 13\frac{1}{4}, though some few sales were made at 13\frac{1}{4}, a decline of \frac{1}{4} since Tuesday.

During the preceding month 409 new granges had been instituted. The next session of the National Grange will be held in Charleston, South Carolina, on the first Wednesday in February, 1875. HEAD OF THE FAMILY .- A gentleman who purchased a box of peaches at the Central Market yesterday, looked around for a boy who would earry them home, and presently he found a ragged lad seated on a bench eating the last remnant of a pear. The man asked him if he wouldn't like to earn ten cents by carrying the box to such a number and street, and the boy promptly replied that he wouldn't. 'Why?" queried the man. "Why?" echoed the boy, "because dad died the other day and now I'm the head of the family, and how'd I look lugging peaches around?'

In portions of Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas the cry of distress is heard. In that great grain-growing region people are actually starving, and committees have been appointed in Chicago to raise means to feed and clothe more than 7,000 famishing people in west Nebraska alone. The cause of the famine is the ravages of the grasshoppers, which destroyed the crops and every green thing in the line of their march. Kullmann, who attempted to kill

Prince Bismark several months ago, has been unable to procure counsel, and the Ultramontanists are much excited at the cowardice and subserviency of the Bar in his district. The trial will take place at Wurzburg, which is a centre of Ultramontane influence, so the mad cooper will not want for friends.

The Charley Ross Abduction Case.

The Charley Ross Abduction Case.

The Chicago Tribune says the abduction of little Charley Ross is one of the saddest cases which has ever been made public, not only in the event itself, but in the distressing consequences which have resulted from it to the family. After relating the various failures that have been made by the officials in the endeavor to discover the whereabouts of the child and to capture his abducters, the Tribune says:

"In addition to these distressing disappointments, the family have been in the constant receipt of threatening, scurrilous, and cowardly letters from anonymous sources. Sensational newspapers, under glaring head-lines, have printed all sorts of vile slanders, cruel description of the family and heartless narratives of their grief, and some have even accused them of being corrupt and mercenary, and of having connived at the abduction of their child for the like of the land present the land correspondents, who have written up most false and cruel letters,

The friends of the family, unable to stop the malice and recklessness of these sensational journals in any other way, have brought suit for libel against the most of them, which will probably have of them, which will probably have the offect to silence the rest of the pack. [COMMUNICATED. To the President and Executive Com-mittee of the N. C. State Agricul-tural Society.

Gentlemen: As Agent for C. M. Stieff, Piano Manufacturers of Baltimore, I en-tered and exhibited one of their Grand Pi-anos at our recent State Fair. The award-ing Committee examined carefully all the instruments on exhibition and after their labors were over, two of the judges (that number being a majority) stated to me and others that the Premium Medal was award others that the Premium Medal was awarded to the Piano represented by me and that they had so reported.

Since the Fair the Executive Committee have held one or more meetings and, as I learn, thoroughly revised the premium list and had the awards published as OFFICIAL. I, of course, expected to find in the oFFICIAL announcement that the Instrument exhibited by me, had been awarded the first premium—a Silver Medal. In this I was not disappointed. The official publication in the News, of the 27th of October, has it all right and in accordance with the written reports of the Awarding Committee.

has it all right and in accordance with the written reports of the Awarding Committee.

You, therefore, as well as the public, understand my atter astonishment at finding a card in the News, of the 28th, from the Secretary of the Secretary stating that the Chairman of the Awarding Committee had instructed him to so state, etc.

On seeing this I called at the office of the Secretary and asked the privilege of examining the original reports. This report now shows that the original Committee made the award in accordance with the first official publication and that the Silver Medal was awarded to the Plano exhibited by me, Now, I must be permitted to enter my protest against this sort of manipulating the reports, after they have been made, revised, and published as official some ten or twelve days after the Fair has closed. It is clear that no kind of confidence can be be extended to any society that will permit it. The certificate of a majority of the original committee can be obtained to this statement. I therefore protest again, in the name of the Society, justice and ordinary properlety against this attempt to pervert the true verdict of the Awarding Committee.

In co-clusion, I call upon your Secretary to state in detail why he allowed any change to be made in the report of the Awarding Committee after the list of awards; ad been revised by the Executive Committee as required by the regulations of your Society.

Very respectfully,

Consumption can be Cured. Schenck's Pulmonie Syrup, Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Filis, are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Frequently medicines that will stop a cosgh will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liv r Complaint and Dyspepain are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of Consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the site, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind.

These symptoms usually originate from disordered condition of the stomach or tordid liver.

Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the congh in these cases be stadenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, remaining forpid and inactive, and almost before they

BLANKS, BILL HEADS, LETTER HEADS, CARDS, PROGRAMMES. HANDBILLS, PAMPHLETS, POSTERS, CHECKS, DRAFTS,&c.

WE yield much of our space this morning to the publication of an able letter from Col. WM. A. ALLEN, late Senator from Duplin county, advocating the calling a Convention by the Legislature. Col. ALLEN was a leading member of the Senate for a number of years, and his views are worthy a careful consideration.

It all depends on one's politics down South. Here is aristocratic old Virginia, with three ex-Governors living, all of whom were born at the North. They are all Democrats, and therefore are not carpet-baggers. - Washington Republican.

The solution is easy enough. These gentlemen came South to work for the real welfare and prosperity of our people and our section. Persons entertaining the same views of the Editor of the Republican can't expect the respect of the Southern people.

The Outlook. In times of political revolution it is frequently the reckless boaster who proves the truest-prophet. On Tuesday next the American people will decide the political character of the next House of Representatives, and upon that decision will probably turn the issue of the Presidential campaign of 1876. For the first time in sixteen eventful years, years of war and carnage, years of oppression and of manifold violations of the constitution, years of plunder and corruption, there is a strong probability that the Democrats will have a majority in the House of Representatives. Since the elections in Ohio and Indiana, the Republicans have awakened to a sense of their danger, and are straining every nerve to avert the impending disaster, but the | years?" same cause has given their adversaries such an impetus that already they feel that success is assured. Up to this time, sixty-three members of the House have been elected, from districts which are represented in the present Congress by forty-six Republicans and seventeen

These districts elect thirty-three Democrats and thirty Republicans, a gain of thirty-two, and the Repub-Hean strong-holds of Maine, Vermont and Iowa, which send sixteen Republicans and one Democrat are included among the number. If the same ratio of gain be kept up, the Democrats will have in the next House a majority of twenty-eight. The election of two hundred and twelve members in twenty-four States (leaving only five States to elect) on Tuesday will practically decide the important issue. After a careful calculation from all the sources of information within our reach, we are confident that the Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives can hardly fall short of twenty, and in all probability will reach double that number. The World's estimate of thirty-six, although we have not seen the particulars upon which it is based, we think is near the truth. It must be remembered that in the strong Democratic States of Tennessee and Virginia, the present representation stands, Republicans 12, Democrats 7. In estimating the members to be elected, Democrats 14, Republicans 5, we claim less than any Democratic paper in either State. Civil Rights, which was so potent an element in the North Carolina canvass, is even more effective in Tennessee, where the Republican candidate for Governor is its unblushing advocate. Again, New Jersey, whose Governor is a Democrat, has in the present Congress six Republicans and one Democrat, Pennsylvania has twenty-two Republicans and only five Democrats; New York, which gave a Democratic majority last year and which will surely give TILDEN a majority over DIX, has twenty-three Republicans to ten Democrats. Illinois has fourteen to five, Michigan nine to none; even faithful little Delaware has a Republican member, and Arkansas, which has just given 75,000 Conservative majority, is now represented by three Republicans and only one Democrat.

Thus it is seen that the field for large gains is promising, and unless the signs of the times are totally delusive,our redemption is at hand. A Democratic majority in the House of Representatives means a Democratic President in 1876.

Friends, if we are right, and if after its long subversion there is a prospeet of the re-establishment of a constitutional government and the pro-tection of the rights of every citizen, if the beginning is made by the tri-umph of the Democracy at the polls on Tuesday, let the true men of Raleigh assemble together and rejoice with our brethren in every section of the Union. Let us welcome the bright gleam which presages the

in Louisiana and Alabama, the two States that are now peculiarly the field for the damnable efforts of the radical administration to create political capital over conceived Southern outrages. These gentlemen, sent into the South to ascertain the real truth of these reported outrages and to reexposed in a masterly manner the villainous operations of such men as KELLOGG and his more wily adherents, and the infamy of the scoundrel HESTER, whose rascalities in our own midst are only too well-known to the people of North Carolina. Says Mr. HANDY, writing from New Or-

"Everybody will agree that there never was a more abject and trans-parent fraud than this Kellog Government, as it now stands revealed, proped up by one-third of the national army and a large squadron of the navy, with troops scattered all through the parishes, and a large body held here in reserve for such action as occasion may demand. It is the very picture of imbecility. * * Intimidation, as I have discovered, means simply that the Kellogg officials, being without military support, are afraid to indulge in any of their characteristic parformance. characteristic performances, and hence proclaim themselves martyrs in order to have excuses ready for a rejection of the honest vote—a rejec-tion provided for by the election law, and left to the option without appeal in the Returning Board, now composed exclusively of Republican par-tisans and office-holders.
"It would not be too much to say that Kellogg, of his own resources, cannot at this moment command respect or enforce obedience in the most insignificant local emergency.'

Mr. WHITE, writing from Sumter county, Ala., lays bare the workings of HESTER and his companions in crime, and exposes the manner in which innocent citizens were arrested and dragged hundreds of miles away from home only for political effect. He thus concludes his letter upon

"The people of Sumter county and of Alabama desire to abide by the laws and to see crime of every sort speedily and severely punished. They have had many things to put up with since the war of which the Northern people know nothing, and have borne the misfortunes that have been heaped upon them with a patience that has been heroic. Is it the policy of the Government to provoke them unnecessarily by subjecting them to arrest on frivolous or imaginary accusations, and by forcing them to answer in a strange city hundreds of miles from home, in order that a man like Charles Hays may misrepresent them in Congress for another two

From the Wilmington Journal. Convention-Letter from Colonel William A. Allen.

We have the pleasure of laying beore our readers to-day a letter from Colonel Wm. A. Allen, of Duplin. Colonel Allen has been a leading member of the Benate for the past four years, and his opinion is worth much in the discussion of the question of the necessity for a conven-tion. He speaks from a long and bit-ter experience in legislating under the present constitution: KENANSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 22, '74. Messrs. Engelhard & Saunders:

DEAR SIRS :- Entertaining the opinion that no good citizen has the right to withhold an expression of his views upon any great question of public policy, when those views are demanded by any portion of his fellow-citizens, I respond to your inquiries upon the subject of the convention without hesitation or apolo-

you ask: 1st. Do you think the best interests of the people of North Carolina require their constitution, the "Canby Constitution" so-called, to be materially and speedily amen-

2d. If, in your opinion, material changes in the Constitution ought to be speedily made, which mode of making these changes do you think the best interests of the people of North Carolina demand should be adopted, that by Legislative enactment or that by Convention?

3d. The Conservative-Democratic party having an undoubted two-thirds vote in each House of the General Assembly, what do you think is the duty of that party in reference to the calling of a Convention by the Legislature at its approaching session for the purpose of amending the Constitution?

My active participation in the Legislative Department of the Govern-ment of North Carolina under our present Constitution, has been such as to impress upon me in no ordinary manner the many and important defects and great superfluities of that instrument, and its utter inadaption o the situation and condition of our people. Its ambiguity and restric-tions upon the Legislative Depart-ment, its loose and unrestrained power vested in the hands of the Executive Department, have been and continue to be sources of much embarrassment in perfecting useful legislation for the country. Under such a constitution we can never hope to see our good old State developed into a great and glorious commonwonwealth, such as her nat-ural resources entitle her to be. We never have seen, and we never shall ee the government established by this constitution maintained and supported within the restrictions imed upon the power of taxation for the county and State governments, and yet the power extends to a much heavier taxation than was ever ne-cessary for these purposes under the old government, when the administration of the government fully annswered every demand. The spectacle is constantly presented before our eyes, even in the best and most economically managed counties, of going beyond the bounds of the constitution to raise revenue for the support of the government, and special tax bills occupying a large por-tion of the Legislature's time. Why is this? Plainly because the Constitution establishes a government too heavy for the demands of our people. Look at the Judicial Department and you find even greater grounds for complaint than in either of the other departments. Under our old constitution each county had six efficient courts a year for the administration of justice, and the whole cost of tration of justice, and the whole cost of the second secon was much less than the present cost administering the Government with only two courts a year, regularly held. Ought not a simple, plain, brief statement of facts be sufficient to impress any sensible, honest and impartial mind with the great necessity of "materially and speedily" amending the present constitution of North Carolina? It does appear so self-evident to my mind, that I really cannot see how any one can come to any other conclusion, than that "the best interests of the people of North Carolina" imperatively "require their constitution to be materially and speedily amended." So conclusive is this view to my mind, that I walls port facts as they found them, have this view to my mind, that I really am unable to see how any one can find a reasonable pretext for a different opinion. Then which of the two modes of "making those changes" should be adopted? If only one or two amendments were necessary to adapt our present constitution to the wants and condition of our people, we might, with some degree of toleration, wait for the slow progress of the Legisla-tive mode. But when we take into consideration the many and palpable defects of the constitution, and the serious embarrassment it imposes upon our material progress in the race of civilization and advancement, the heavy and oppressive burdens it fastens upon our people, without any compensative and beneficial corresponding effects, I unhesitatingly say that I think the speedy hode of a con-vention should be adopted. North Carolina needs relief, and she needs it now. The people have been demand-ing it through their representatives ever since they began to feel half-way like they could call themselves free men. In 1870, so important did the representatives of the people feel it to be to afford the people an opportu-nity of relieving themselves from the burdens and inconsistencies of the present constitution, that they tried the doubtful expedient of submitting the question to them to call a convention by a vote of the people, contrary to what was believed by many to be the forms of law. Under the intimidation of Fedofficers, and the fear that it might be considered a revolutionary expedient, the convention failed. But did this show any disposition on the part of our people against a convention to amend the Constitution, if one could be called according to all the acknowledged forms of law, and in exact conformity with the provisions of the present Constitution? Most unquestionably not. He who so interprets public sentiment much mistakes the popular will. The people desire many and material changes in their fundamentall law, and so strong did the Legislature of 1870 feel this pressure of public sentiment when the Representatives assembled in the winter of 1871, after the defeat of the Convention by the means just indicated, that they immediately recommended thirty amendments, and the Legislature of 1872 had sufficient power to re-adopt eight of these thirty, and with overwhelming acclaim the people adopted these eight when they were submitted to the popular vote. In public estimation the other twenty-two are held to be but a little less important, and there are still others that are much needed. Our friends are mistaken in supposing that the people are op posed to the Convention mode of amending the Constitution, if that Convention can be called by a twothirds vote of the Legislature, without submitting the question to a popular vote, and in exact accord But why should the Convention mode be adopted, rather than the Legislative? I answer because it is he only speedy mode, and because where there are so many important amendments needed, as in the case of the present Constitution of North Carolina, in order to adapt it to the situation, wants and condition of our people, it is the only intelligible mode. I have not time to argue this part of the subject in detail. From what has already been said the whole argument will readily suggest itself to the intelligent reader. I, there-fore, express my very decided opinion, under existing circumstances, in favor of the Convention mode, and have no fears that the people would regard the Convention with disfavor. Is it then "the duty" of "the Con-servative-Democratic party, having an undoubted two-thirds vote in each House of the General Assembly" to call "a convention by the Legislature at its approaching session for the purpose of amending the constitution?"

funequivocally say yes, and I say further, that in my opinion, if the Legislature fails to do so, it will be the severest blow to the Conservative-Democratic party of North Carolina, that it has received for many a day. Ever since the adoption of this constitution in 1868, under circumstances which I need not undertake to detail, the members of the Conservative-Democratic party, in every section of the State, and upon every stump, and in the columns of every newspaper, have held up to the public gaze the deformities and imperfections of this illshaped and bastard child, coneived on a foreign soil and brought orth here as one born out of season. If our party then fail to use the most auspicious opportunity and circum-stances that we may have for many years to relieve the people from the burdens of such a constitution, what must the people think of our professions of devotion to their interest? Let our friends look to this, and act wisely for the best interest of the peoof North Carolina. If they do, I shall feel that our glorious old State has still an opportunity of re-building up the waste places, and of a brilliant existence in the no distant future. I have not time for a fuller expression of my views upon this most important subject at present. Very truly, WM. A. ALLEN.

TRUMPERY TONICS.—Moderation in the use of stimulants, like the avoidance of all excesses, is unquestionably praiseworthy and life-prolonging. All sensible persons admit this. But the venders of all non-alcoholic slops, desirous of undermining the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in order to seil their own wo thiess trash, have thought fit togo to their length of denouncing as baneful in the extreme all invigorants containing spirits. Now the very reverse of all this is the case, the fact being that no vegetable bitters entirely devoid of alcohol are worth a rush, that being the one ingredient which prevents the decomposition and souring of the others. Probably no one knows better than you, Messieuis the Trumpery Tonic Vendors, that the perfectly pure liquor used to dissolve the botanic constituents of Hosteter's Stomach Bitters is the very best medium that could have been selected to facilitate and confirm the invigorating, protective and remedial action of the great stomachic. oct 22-D& Wtoet 29

TAILORING. POLONIUS' ADVICE TO

Costly thy Habit as thy Purse can

It will be remembered by Shakespearan readers in the play of Hamlet, the advice of Polonius to his son Laertes, who was just in the act of leaving Denmark for a journey to France, wherein he said:

"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich not gaudy—for the apparel of t proclaims the man," ee., &c.
Ministers from the pulpit have said that every young man should paste in his hat the remarks in full of Polonius.

WEIKEL, the Merchant Tailor, in endorsing all that has been said on the subject, would remark that he is better saujeat, would remark that he is better prepared than ever to supply to his numer-cus friends and customers "habits" just as those mentioned. "Rich, but not randy," and not so "costly" as you might suppose. His stock of

Mark Twain-A Cheery View of Life Insurance. At a dinner given by the insurance men of Hartford, Conn., Thursday evening, to Mr. Cornelius Walford, the famous English insurance author, now on a visit to this country, the speech of the evening was made by Mark Twain, who was present in the character of a director in a life insurance company:

Gentlemen:—I am glad to assist in welcoming the distinguished guest of this occasion to a city whose fame as an insurance centre has extended to all lands, and given us the name of being a quadruple band of broth-ers working sweetly, hand in hand, the Colt Arms Company making the destruction of our race easy and convenient, our life insurance citizens paying for the victims when they pass away, Mr. Batterson perpetuating their memory with his stately monuments, and our fire insurance comrades taking care of their hereafter. I am glad to assist in welcoming our guest-first because he is an Englishman, and I owe a heavy debt of hospitality to certain of his fellow countrymen; and secondly, because he is in sympathy with insurance. and has been the means of making many other men east their sympathies in the same direction. Certainly there is no nobler field for human effort than the insurance line of business-especially accident insurance. Ever since I have been a director in an accident insurance company I have felt that I am a better man. . Life has seemed more preclous. Accidents have assumed kindlier aspect. Distressing special providences have lost half their horror. I look upon a cripple, now, with affectionate interest—as an advertisement. I do not seem to care for poe'ry any more. I do not care for politics; even agriculture does not excite me, but to me now there is a charm about a railway collision that is unspeakable.

There is nothing more beneficent than accident insurance. I have seen an entire family lifted out of poverty and into affluence by the simple boon of a broken leg. I have had people come to me on crutches, with tears in their eyes, to bless this beneficent institution. In all my experience of life I have seen nothing so seraphic as the look that comes into a freshlymutilated man's face when he feels in his vest pocket with his remaining hand and finds his accident ticket all right. And I have seen nothing so sad as the look that came into another splintered customer's face when he found he couldn't collect on a wooden leg.

I will remark here, by way of an advertisement, that that noble charity which we have named, the Hartford Accident Insurance Company, is an institution which is peculiarly to be depended upon. A man is bound to prosper who gives it his custom. No man can take out a policy in it and not get crippled before the year is out. Now there was one indigent man who had been disappointed so often with other compa-nies that he had grown disheartened; his appetite left him, he ceased to smile—said life was but a weariness. Three weeks ago I got him to insure with us, and now he is the brightest, happiest spirit in this land—has a good, steady income and a stylish suit of new bandages every day, and travels around on a shutter.

I am informed by Mr. Charles E. Wilson, foreman of our patent leg and crutch factory—however, for further information on that head I will refer you to our other advertise-I will say in conclusion that my share of the welcome to our guest is none the less hearty because I talk so much nonsense, and I know that I can say the same for the rest of the speakers.

Southern Schools.

The eighth report of the General Agent of the Peabody Fund, Dr. Barnabas Sears, was submitted to the Trustees of the Fund, in New York city, recently. Dr. Sears strongly condemns the effect of the civilrights agitation upon the school sys-tem of the South. He regards mixed schools as an impossibility. The attempt to compel the co-education of the children of both colors, if persisted in, will close every public school below Mason and Dixson's line. In these views, the Special Committee, appointed by the Trustees to report on the subject of mixed schools, heartily concurs. The Committee consists of John H. Crawford, S. Wetmore and William M. Evar.s. Dr. Sears' report takes up each State in detail: We subjoin his statements concerning a few of the States:

Virginia shows a healthy zeal for public instruction. It is newborn, but vigorous. The City of Richmond, which has 4,955 children at school, will hereafter support its own schools without outside aid. Virginia has received $38,425 from the fund during the past year.

North Carolina has been sluggish in educational matters. Reform was promised a year ago, but the promise has not been fulfilled. Aid to the amount of $12.300 has been

The South Carolina school-fund is hopelessly in arrears. "Except in the city of Charleston, scarcely any schools in the State are kept throughout the year. They are, moreover, so poorly supported and badly managed that no aid we can give will make them attractive to intelligent families." Under such circumstances, aid seemed inadvisable. Only $200 was spent in "the prostrate State." In Georgia there is "a deplorable state of popular ignorance." Out of 400,000 persons between 6 and 18, 250,000 attend no school. Thirty-five per cent. of the population over 10 years old cannot read. The cities are organizing public instruction with great zeal, but the State and the country districts are indifferent. The public expenditure on schools, last year, was $250,000. The Peabody Fund contributed $10,350 more.

In the General Episcopal Convention on Tuesday the committee on the state of the Church submitted an extended report on the condition of the Church at the present time. Gratifying accounts from all parts of the country in regard to her welfare had been received, but it was a matter of regret that the number of candidates for holy orders had decreased since 1871. The committee recommended the creation of a building fund, and commended the condition of the Church in the South to her more fortunate sister churches

The associated banks of New York now hold nearly sixteen millions of dollars above the legal reserve, which

The Committee on Canons in the General Episcopal Convention on Tuesday reported having had under consideration message 21 of the House of Bishops, containing the amended canon on the subject of divorce, and recommended the adoption of the following resolution: Resolved, That the House of Deputies concur with the House of Bishops on the proposed canon on the subject of divorce, with the following amendments: First, strike out section 1; second, strike out sections 3, 4 and 5; third, strike out section 2so that the canon may read as follows: 'No minister of this Church shall solemize matrimony in any case where there is a divorced wife or husband of either party still living, and where the divorce was obtained for some cause arising out of marriage; but this canon shall not apply to the innocent party in a divorce for the cause of adultery, or to parties once divorced seeking to be united again.'

General Sheridan won't marry until he can find some woman who will let him sleep with his boots on. If he would only shy up to Susan B. Anthony or Mary Walker, he might find use for his spurs also.—Richmond Enquirer.

The Radical papers express great surprise that the Democratic roosters have grown so large. But they must remember it is about fourteen years now since they last saw them.

CHANGE IN THE CABIEET .- Now that the CHANGE IN THE CABIEST.—Now that the President's Long Branch season is over, it is confidently asserted that there will be a change in the Cabinet, and that before the first of December. It is known that the President and all heads of departments have bought largely of tickets for the next Grand Gift Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky, to draw November 30, and they flatter themselves that they will capture one or more of the large prizes, which will make plenty of change in the Cabinet, oct 22-D&Wlw

The Episcocal General Convention In New York-Ritualism.

NEW YORK, October 28 .- The Tribune say : Much sooner than was expected the contest on Ritualism came to a close in the Episcopal Convention. The large majority given in favor of the new canon was probably secured, not by speeches or arguments during the debate, but by the explanation of the Convention. Their spokesman stated that the canon, while presenting a mere opinion that certain ritualists' acts and practices were of doubtful doctrine, by no means settled the question or forbade the acts, but simply paved the way for an investigation and trial when they took place.

The real battle over ritualism is to be fought when these cases come up for trial. The vital question is thus postponed.

The Episcopal Congress Committee on Canons, reported adversely to deaconnesses. The Texas dioceses are divided into two missionary districts, under the title of the Northern and Western. Bishop Alexander C. Garrett, of Nebraska, was appointed missionary bishop for Northern Tex-as; R. W. B. Elliott, of Georgia, was appointed missionary bishop for Western Texas; Jno. D. Wingfield, of Petersburg, Va., appointed missionary bishop for North California. Missionary bishops were confirmed with closed doors at 4 o'clock.

Louisiana Matters—Six Thousand Fraudulent Votes Discovered. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28th.-Weltz

has ordered the saloons to be closed on election day.

Five to six thousand fraudulent negro names have been discovered on the registration books. The Central Church Committee of fifty Republicans, colored, have issued an address stating that they constitute nine-tenths of the Republicans of the State, and ask equal distribution of public patronage, and demand that the colored men shall be consulted upon all questions involving interest, which they represent, and the welfare of the people of the State. They do not propose to be blindly led as they have been in the past. Thus putting an end to revolution.

Affairs in Louisiana. NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Herald's New Orleans special says: On Tues-day evening the Conservative leaders held a meeting and decided to commence criminal proceedings against Kellogg, Longstreet, Badger and all Radical leaders for murder. The charge will be for conspiring, on the 14th of September, against the lives of citizens while in the exercise of the rights guaranteed them under the Constitution, in removing and protecting State arms. The affidavits are being prepared to-day and two U.S. Commissioners agree to issue the the warrants. If Marshal Packard refuses to execute them the Commissioners will direct General Emory to do so, and under the President's decision he must execute the order of the United States Court as represented in the person of the Commission-While the affidavits will be filed the warrants will not be issued before the election, unless the further arrests of whites are made. The Carolina Central Railroad, in the persons of Captains Morrison, Leggett and Wooten, has three capital conductors.

W. B. Dills, charged with the mur-der of Deputy Marshal B. N. H. Burns, was tried at Webster Court last week and acquitted. Mr. Jas. A. Williard has been appointed to act as Superintendent of the Cape Fear Agricultural Fair to be held in Wilmington in December. The United States Court convened at Newbern on Tuesday, Judge Brooks presiding. United States District Attorney, R. C. Badger, is in attendance. The Rutherford Star boasts that cotton raised in that locality is of a better staple than any raised south of that place, and commands a better price in the Northern markets.

The Executive Committee of the State Grange will meet in Charlotte on Tuesday next. The direct trade question will form the principal feature of discussion in the meeting.

A fire in Bladen county Saturday night consumed a storehouse, workshop, two dwelling houses and one blacksmith shop, all the property of Mr. Wm. C. Harrell. Loss $2,00.

A man undertook to mesmerize a bull dog in Charlotte a few days since, on a wager of $5. The man's coat-tail paid the forfeit as he vamoosed over the fence, the dog quiet-ly returning to his seat.

The trains over the Carolina Central Railroad will commence next week running, says the Monroe Enquirer, to that place. Only a short time will elapse before the trains will be running through to Charlotte.

The Newbernian don't like the 'slow time" which has been adopted on the Atlantic Road, and suggests several additions to the accommodations, such as a cook-house, a hospi-tal corps and sleeping-car. Our neighborshouldn't be impatient-this is an age of progress, even if it should be backwards sometimes. The Annual Fair at Asheville last week was well attended. Says the Expositor: "The display of equine stock and cattle was not as good as that anticipated, but the other departments were well supplied. The adies deserve especial credit for their zealous efforts in this behalf. On both occasions has the work of their dainty hands contributed largely to the success attending them, and encouraged the men to renewed efforts

We endorse the following from the Newbernian: "We are pleased to note the fact that the good people of Weldon can now boast of one of the best hotels in North Carolina. The Weldon Hotel, under the manage-ment of Messrs. McLaurie & Russell, late of New York, who have recently located at that place, has been thoroughly renovated from cellar to garret, and is second to none in our State. We bespeak for these enterprising gentlemen that success which always attends the experienced and hospital hosteler."

Ready Mixed Paint. We call special attention to the excellent testimonia's of Mr. C. P. Knight, in reference to Ready Made Paint. Not having used the paint, we can't speak from experience, but we feel sure it is to the interest of all our customers who desire painting to test the same.

FIFTH AND LAST GIFT CONCERT IN AID OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.—A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.—The management have determined to have the drawing of the Fifth and Last 6.ft Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky.—It has 30th day of November next. We believe now that all the tickets will be sold, and that the drawing will be a full one; but whether all are sold or not, the drawing will nevertheless certainly come off on the dry appointed.

The special object of this ard is to call a meeting of the ticket-holders at Public Library Hall, on the 20th o: November, to make arrangements in connection with the committee appointed by the Trustees to superintend the counting of the tags representing the number of tickets sold. While there is no actual necessity for the presence of ticket-holders, as under our arrangements the interests of all are equally cared for, yet at the same time I would greatly prefer that as many of those interested as can, would attend this meeting and see each for himself how perfectly fair and impartial the distribution must be.

Every arrangement has been made for the drawing—but little more than a month remains for the sale of the remainder of the tickets, and whatever is done must be done promptly.
